The glittering jewel of De Hoop is one of CapeNature's flagship reserves and has a well-deserved reputation as a truly magical wilderness. The reserve lies at the southernmost tip of Africa, where mountains meet the sea and create a fusion between freshwater and marine habitats that support a staggering array of terrestrial and aquatic life. Encompassing roughly 34 000 hectares, this World Heritage Site is one of the largest natural areas managed by CapeNature.

Annually, between June and November, southern right whales make their epic journey back to the safety of these rich waters to mate and calve. The famed Whale Trail Hike is revered as one of the most meaningful ways to experience this extraordinary phenomenon, with CapeNature offering slack-packing at its most idyllic. De Hoop defies superlatives – it must be experienced to be truly understood.

Once you enter the reserve, follow the public entrance signs at the Y-junction to the office. Whale Trail hikers can go straight to their first overnight hut (Potberg hut). Your portorage boxes will be available for you to start packing. Once all hikers have arrived, briefing will be at the Whale Trail Welcome Centre from 14h00 - 15h00.

The ocean deposits sea-borne litter on our beaches every day. We conduct regular beach clean ups with staff and volunteers. Hikers frequently ask if they can help with beach clean-ups, and we do make bags available to volunteers to assist, if they so wish, in the stretch from Noetsie to Koppie Alleen. Please speak to staff at the reserve if your group would like to help.

THE WHALE TRAIL

The approximate 55,7 km trail is renowned for its diverse fynbos vegetation, magnificent dunes and whale watching opportunities. On the trail, you will experience breath-taking views of the Indian Ocean and Breede River Valley. After two days of challenging hiking you descend to the coast to explore the pristine south eastern coastline, one of the largest Marine Protected Areas in Africa.

The five-day trail stretches from Potberg to Koppie Alleen and has five overnight stops. Vehicles are left at Potberg and a shuttle service returns you to Potberg from Koppie Alleen. The trail is clearly marked.

This is slack-packing at its finest. Your extra luggage is transported every day to the next hut, so all you need to carry on the trail is a day pack. The 70-litre transport containers are waiting for you at Potberg hut. Up to 14 units per group of 6 are allowed, or seven units per group of six. Hikers pay for each container transported to the next hut, including units used as cooler boxes on the trail. CapeNature will supply cooler boxes to hikers upon request.

Potberg to Cupidoskraal

15,5 km - Moderate to strenuous ± 8 hours

This is the toughest stretch of the trail and an early start is recommended. It will take you to the top of Potberg at 611 metres, with breathtaking panoramic views of Swellendam in the north, Cape Infanta in the east and Cape Agulhas in the west. You will also have a good chance of sighting the rare Cape vulture. The trail descends towards Cupidoskraal.

Cupidoskraal to Noetsie

15,2 km - Moderate ± 8 hours

The trail follows the crest of the Potberg through mountain fynbos with unequalled views of the Indian Ocean and the Breede River. The route finally leaves Potberg and leads onto limestone hills with strikingly different fynbos, then descends to the enchanting bay of Noetsie at the coast.

Noetsie to Hamerkop

8,5 km – Moderate ± 6 hours
(4 hours of actual walking)

This short distance allows a leisurely start to the day and ample time for exploring the coastline. Stilgat, with its clear tidal pools and abundant marine life will provide an unsurpassed opportunity for snorkelling and swimming. Several whale watching points lie ahead until you reach a lovely sandy beach stretching all the way to Hamerkop.

Hamerkop to Vaalkrans

10,5 km – Moderate ± 6 hours

It is well worth the long walk on the beach as the views and turquoise rock pools that you eventually reach are splendid. Please stay clear of the sensitive calcrete formations and look out for interesting seabirds like the shy oystercatchers and white breasted cormorants basking in the sun. Hikers are requested to respect the privacy of the guests staying at the remote Lekkerwater Lodge, which is on this route.

Vaalkrans to Koppie Alleen

7 km - Easy ± 6 hours
(2 hours of actual walking)

Again, a short hike allows you ample time to enjoy scenic landscapes and watch the southern right whales and bottlenosed dolphins frolicking in the waves. Snorkel at your leisure or float in the Hippo Pools before walking up to the Koppie Alleen parking where the shuttle will collect you.

Water management

The Whale Trail utilises underground water, which is safe for drinking, except at Noetsie, where you will find a tap which is marked with a 'drinking water only' sign. Do not drink or cook food with water from the other taps, because the saltiness of the water can cause diarrhoea. Hikers are encouraged to shower less than three minutes and use water sparingly.

Lights

- Solar panels supply the energy for the lights.
- Ensure that all light switches are switched off before going to bed.
- Please note that if it is an overcast or rainy day, the huts might not have any electricity.

Vehicles

- You are allowed to park your vehicle at the Potberg hut (first overnight hut) while off-loading.
- All vehicles must be moved and parked in the Whale Trail parking area before you start the trail.
- Do not leave any valuables visible in the vehicle.

Please Note:

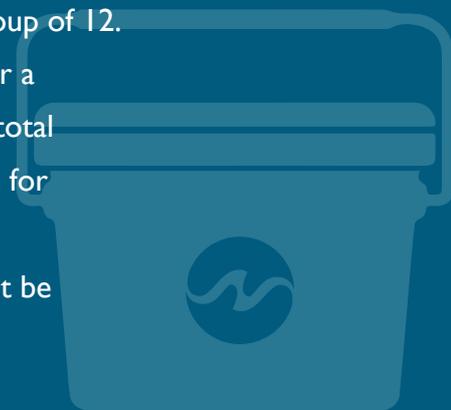

- Signs to follow: white footprint and other directional signs.
- The only water point on the trail is approximately 10,5 km from the first hut.
- Walk with a minimum of 2L of drinking water per day, as water points and shade or shelter is limited along the trail.
- It is recommended that you start your hike early in the morning.
- Beware of freak waves, as well as rip currents when walking along the coast.
- Never turn your back on the sea.
- Always carry your mobile phone and map with you.
- NO Hikers will be allowed to join the hike after Day 1 or leave before Day 5.

Transport of luggage on the Whale Trail

- The portage service provides you the option to slackpack.
- There is an extra cost per unit payable to make use of the portage service. (Check tariff sheet for cost.)
- A standard 70L container is provided and readily available at Potberg hut.
- No private luggage boxes are allowed on the trail.
- Cooler boxes are available in the huts. A maximum of two is provided per group of 12.
- A total maximum of 7 units per group of 6 and a total maximum of 14 units for a group of 12 will be allowed. Cooler boxes that replace units, form part of the total maximum amount of units allowed. NB: No additional containers are available, for transportation, due to transport capacities.
- If payments for the units are made prior to your arrival, proof of payment must be produced at the reserve.

Cash or credit card
payments are accepted at the reserve.

STANDARD CONTAINERS: CAPACITY 70L

Length: 60cm

Width: 40cm

Height: 40cm

PLEASE NOTE:

- No loose items or items tied onto the container will be transported.
- A unit should not weigh more than 30 kg.
- No storage facilities are available on the trail. Units for transportation must be ready every morning at 09h00 and must be stacked together inside the kitchen area of the hut.
- Your luggage will be delivered to your hut no later than 16h00 for the duration of the trail, unless there are unforeseen circumstances. (Remember that your luggage will arrive every day a little bit later at the hut than the previous day, because a circular route is followed - so always keep your lunch in your daypack).
- Your luggage will be treated with care, but CapeNature cannot be held responsible for damage caused by inadequate packing.
- Ensure that you insulate fragile items.

SHUTTLE BUS AT KOPPIE ALLEEN

Pickup time is at 12h00. You can arrange for an early pickup at the briefing. NB: Please note once a pickup time is set it cannot be changed.

Please wait for the shuttle in the parking area.

You will be shuttled back to Potberg (45 min ride). The shuttle will first stop at the tourism office for you to be debriefed. You can also make use of the opportunity to purchase items at the curio shop. The shuttle will drop all visitors off at the Whale Trail Parking area where your luggage awaits you.

Ablution blocks with shower facilities are available at two points, namely Koppie Alleen and at the Whale Trail parking area (located close to Potberg hut).
